- Representatives from Architectural Testing's Evaluation and Certification Services Departments will be on hand to discuss your needs for evaluation reports and follow-up inspection. Be sure to stop by booth 1365 (map below) and familiarize yourself with our evaluation and inspection services and learn how we can make your evaluation experience more efficient and less expensive.
- Don't need evaluation or certification services? Stop by and learn about the comprehensive testing, engineering and field evaluation services that Architectural Testing can provide your company or organization. We have a wide range of services at ten laboratories nationwide. Some of our services include:
 - Testing services covering full scale preconstruction mock-up testing, thermal evaluations, seismic performance, acoustical performance, hurricane wind-blown debris, materials testing, blast chamber and more.....
 - Engineering services including structural analysis, design wind load, code compliance, and blast load analysis.
 - Forensics evaluations including building envelope commissioning services, building forensic investigations, Pre-construction consulting, field testing, and professional engineering services.

We look forward to meeting you!
